

YOUR DEAD GRANDMA SAYS YOU SHOULDN'T SPEND ANY MONEY ON SCUMBAGS WHO CLAIM THEY BRING MESSAGES FROM HER

Would you believe your dead grandma really said that? No? Why not? Because it's on this poster? Well, this poster has passed just as many serious tests providing evidence of its psychic ability as any medium out there. That's right, none. So the evidence that this poster is bringing you a genuine message from your dead grandma is just as strong as that which any medium have been able to provide. Yet psychic mediums are spreading like a disease, charging lots of money to convey far more banal messages than the one you see on top of this poster. In general, psychic mediums are black marketeers, exploiting and feeding off emotional needs that we all seem to share. They prey on the most vulnerable inside of us and they don't hesitate to mess up the memories we have of our deceased loved ones.

You might say psychic mediums are a modern version of the human vultures that used to flock to desecrate the bodies of fallen soldiers in search for valuables on battlefields. They have no respect for the dead, they don't care that they are violating the emotional integrity of the living. The battlefield vultures used knives to cut fingers for rings and pick gold from teeth. Psychic mediums use psychological trickery and Google to cut away your doubts and pick your pockets for cash.

So don't spend your money on frauds claiming to speak to the dead. They are leeches feeding off of your hopes and beliefs. Their interest is your money, or, in some cases, your attention. If they really cared about you, they would respect the memory of your loved ones and stay away, just as sane strangers do.
